

On the Subject of Bloxx

Thump, thump, thump, thump... That's the sound a massive block does when he moves around.

The module consists of a dark grey grid, a red 2x1 block, 4 direction buttons and a reset button.

Move the red block in such a way that it stands upright on the green square to defuse the module.

To move the block, press the direction buttons.

If the block touches a square that is not part of the grid, the module will give a strike and reset the move.

Pressing the red reset button will rewind all valid moves back to the beginning.
